

STORYTELLING AND THE THREE R'S

Reading is the fundamental skill upon which all formal education depends. Low reading achievement is the root cause of low performing schools. “Reading aloud to children is the single most important activity one can do to raise a reader.”

- U.S. Department of Education

- Do you want children to love reading?
- Do you want to raise reading achievement and school performance levels?
- Do you want to help parents, teachers, and children work together to reach these goals?
- If you answered yes to any of these questions, then Storytelling and the Three R's is exactly what you want!

Performance and/or Workshop

- School assembly inspires children to love reading.
- Classroom sessions improve students reading and writing skills.
- Workshop helps parents and teachers use simple storytelling techniques while reading aloud to children.
